

In Case Of Emergency:

Bleeding Gums

Bleeding gums often point towards gum disease. You will need to schedule for a gingival evaluation and cleaning.

Severe cases of gum disease require gum surgery, antibiotic treatment or extraction. It is important that you schedule as soon as you notice bleeding, to prevent more invasive treatment.

If any of the above events occur, schedule with your dentist immediately. Resolving issues quickly will allow for the best results with your dental health.

Emergency Phone Number:

Dr. Robert Arm - 302.530.6788